Letter from Petersburg. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.]

PETERSBURG, May 27, 1875. The city is to be lighted with gasoline, and the contract has been awarded. The Gas Company and the special committee of the Common Council to whom the matter of lighting the city was referred, with full power to act in the premises, were unable to agree as to terms, and gas will be cut off from the street-lamps on the 1st day of June. Sundry propositions and counter propositions were submitted, but they resulted in nothing satisfactory-the Gas Company finally declining to come to terms on prices which the committee proposed should be charged private consumers.

There are 443 lamps in the city, 260 of which are gas-lamps and 183 kerosene. The contract to light them with gasoline has been taken by Mr. N. C. Harrison at $1.35 per month each for the gas-lamps and $1.10 per month each for the kerosene-lamps, the city to make all the necessary alterations. The actual cost of the lighting to the city will be about $5 500 per annum.

It is believed, however, that before a great while arrangements will be made to introduce gas again, which will be furnished-if not by the Petersburg Company-by some outside persons, or may be by works owned

Information from the adjacent counties, while giving nothing definite as to the result of the elections, indicates the polling of a large Conservative vote.

Retrenchment is still the order of the day. It is announced that at the meeting of the Council the first of next month an effort will be made to still further reduce the estimates of expenditures for the next year. It is probable that there will be one or more resignations from the Finance Committee as one of the results.

The attorney for the city rules that persons who have obtained licenses to sell liquor to be drunk where sold violate the law in selling drinks to be taken outside of their houses. This may interfere materially with the convenience of gentlemen who like to for the benefit of the Ladies' Sunday-School Aid have their juleps brought to them in eigarboxes, dex

The bail its are making a lively warfare on the canine population. Within the last under the direction of Professor MINOR, will be three days one hundred and sixty-four dogs | getter up in the best style of his art. The music have been captured and lodged in the pound, will be furnished by the and to-day thirty-four of them were killed by shooting. Citizens have been going very freely to the court-house to pay the tax on their dogs to save them, and up to to-day 764 medals have been issued.

Railroad-iron from the Gaston branch of the Petersburg road is passing in large lots through the city in the direction of Richmond, and the excitement in consequence is kep! well alive. In Brunswick and Greensville counties the citizens are said to be very greatly disturbed by the tearing up of the ROBIN HOOD.

ELECTION-DAY- -STRANGE AND SUDDEN DEATH-AUGUSTA NATIONAL BANK -SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY-FOREST FIRES.

STAUNTON, May 27, 1875. Although this is election day, things are very quiet in our city, and the usual business of the city is being transicted as on ordinary days. The people do not seem to recognize that it is a day big with the fate of many of their feliow-citizens who are so anxious to serve them to their "entire satisfaction." The contest in this county is limited, I believe, to the offices of overseer and commissioner of the revenue, there being no opposition to the gentlemen who now fill the offices of clerk, Commonwealth's attorney, and sheriff, Mr. D. C. Fitch, a gentleman who recently moved to this place from Huntington, W. Vs., died very suddenly on yesterday evening. He had been in very good health, and yesterday morning went to a deutist and had a tooth extracted. Before having the operation performed he had chloroform administered to him. After recovering from the effeets of the chloroform he returned to his residence, on Augusta street, and having told his wife about taking the chloroform and having his tooth extracted he complained of feeling drowsy, laid down, and in a few o'clock, the fast and elegant steamer hours died. No examination has as yet, I believe, been made, and it is not known what caused his sudden death, as he seemed to have fully recovered from the ordinary points, and return to Richmond MONDAY AFeffects of the chloroform before leaving the dentist's office.

The room on Augusta street formerly cccupied by Ker & Marton, agents of the Piedmont and Arlington Life Insurance Company, has been rented and very nicely fitted up by the Augusta National Bank, which commences operations to day. This bank starts under very favorable auspices. It has already a paid-up capital of $75,000, owned by many of the most solid and reliable business-men of the county and city, an excellent directory, efficient and popular officers, and will, doubtless, prove a very successful insti-

The valuable property known as the Buffalo Gap Iron-Works, situated in Buffalo Gap, in the western part of Augusta county, was sold at public auction, in front of the was sold at public auction, in front of the court-house, on last Monday, to C. H. Greene and H. J. Rodgers, for the sum of $40,100.

Fires have been raging in the mountains and woods around our city for the past week, and much valuable timber has been destroyed. It is hoped that they were extinguished by the rain which fell evening before last, although it was hardly extended enough to accomplish this result. At one time the property of the Mount Terry Iron. TESTIMONIAL TO THE FIRST VIRGINIA REGI-MENT. -- As a token of esteem and an evidence of gratitude for past ho-pitality, the Washington Light Guards, Captain Donald Me-Cathren, have had prepared for presentation to the First Regiment Virginia Volunteers, of Richmond, an immense frame containing the picture and autograph of each member of the Light Guards. A series of resolutions have been drafted, and will be forwarded to Richmond with the picture in a short time .- Washington Tribune, 26th.

Tobacco Prospect .- Altogether the prospect for a big crop in this section is cheering. Extensive preparations have been going on for a large planting; plants are abun- TO LECTURE COMMITTEES ATTENDING dant, though small; and more commercial fertilizers have been purchased this season than for many years past. The exceeding high prices now being realized is stimula ting our tarmers to extra exertions, knowing as they do that however large a crop may be grown the supply will not be equal to the demand, or make up for the deficiency of the past year's failure. So the chances are for Chatham Tribune.
